Robert English went back to his winner, "Bob's Glazed Rocks," to capture the Men's Cooking Contest cook-off Saturday night at the Coastal Empire Fair. The contest was sponsored by Savannah Gas Co. and the News-Press. For his delicacy, English is the winner of a new self cleaning gas range. Placing second was Philip Saraf, who orchestrated a production of stuffed egg plant and won a gas-operated grill. Saturday night's cook-off pitted the winners of each week night contest. Today's fair schedule is highlighted by an all-day gospel sing at the grandstand. Gates open 1 p.m. and the '73 extravaganza closes at 6 p.m.
